2021 Annual Meeting of Shareholders

Once a year, Gana-A'Yoo meets in one of our four villages for the annual meeting of shareholders. This year we took into consideration our theme, "Adapting to Our Environment," and followed the public health officials' recommendation to conduct a virtual livestream webcast due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The Board of Directors and limited staff met at the Westmark Fairbanks Hotel on May 21 for this year's annual meeting of shareholders. Thank you to all who tuned in and attended this year's meeting.

PRIZE winners

Congratulations to early bird prize winners Viola Nickoli ($1,000), Phyllis Stickman ($500) and $100 winners Karen Kriska, Catherine Brush, Brenda Jimmie, Rita Hemphill and Thomas Neglaska. Congratulations to proxy prize winners Darlene Lolnitz ($1,500), Shirley Newcomb ($1,000), Clara Honea ($250), Francis McGinty ($250), Verna Demoski ($100) and Josephine McGinty ($100). This year, Gana-A'Yoo also conducted $100 pop-up proxy drawings; congratulations to Donna Garman, Tamera Tjepelman and Shirley Kriska. Thank you to all who took part in voting this year's Gana-A'Yoo proxies.

CEO Message

Greetings shareholders,

After an exceptionally long spring, summer happened quickly. Now that COVID-19 restrictions have relaxed, I am excited and looking forward to visiting our villages.

Our annual meeting of shareholders was held May 21 in Fairbanks via livestream. Thank you to all who called in and took part in this event. Congratulations to our incumbent returning elected board members, Shay Huntington McEwen and Sharon Hildebrand, and our newly elected board member, Joshua Peter. I look forward to working with all of you. Special thanks to Kim Bower for her years of service on the board and as board chair. Your commitment to the growth of our company is commendable.

Gana-A'Yoo in the news! On June 4, Gana-A'Yoo was highlighted on Alaska's News Source as their Breakfast Club winner. Visit <http://bit.ly/BreakfastClubWinner> to see our winning Breakfast Club smiles.

The summer is alive and active. Thank you to all those who took part in the Gana-A'Yoo Foundation fundraising walk in Galena, organized by Joyce Huntington, and thank you to those who expressed interest in serving on Gana-A'Yoo committees. Shareholder and descendant perpetuity is one of our goals. We are looking for interns to work this summer; if you are interested in gaining skills, knowledge and deenge, please call us.

I would like to wish all of you a healthy and successful gathering season.

My best regards,

Dena

Outgoing CHAIR

The board and staff recognize the contributions, hard work and dedication of outgoing board member and chair, Kimberly Bower. Bower committed much of her time and energy to Gana-A'Yoo while also working in the healthcare field as a registered nurse throughout the COVID-19 pandemic. Bower served for two terms, through the transition of CEOs and a meeting interrupted by a historic Anchorage earthquake. She thanked the Gana-A'Yoo shareholders for their trust, confidence and votes to allow her to serve the last six years. She recognized board member, William Dayton, for his support of her growth and development throughout her time on the board, teaching her to really listen.

“Thank you to the past and present board members and management to help get the corporation to where it is now and where it is going in the future.”
– Kimberly Bower

ELDERS Spotlight

Traditionally during the annual meeting, Gana-A'Yoo takes the opportunity to recognize our Elders in attendance. This year, the meeting was a hybrid of virtual and in person, held in Fairbanks. OPEN Enrollment

Robin Renfroe is the vice president of human resources and shareholder services for Doyon, Limited, and is a subject matter expert on open enrollment. Over the years, she has shared her expertise with the Gana-A'Yoo shareholder relations committee on this topic. Renfroe served as the keynote speaker at this year's annual meeting of shareholders. She took the time to remind shareholders that it is your vote, and it is your voice. Her challenge for Gana-A'Yoo shareholders is to talk to your family, have conversation, and most importantly, to ask the questions and get the correct answers from the corporation. And when it is time, make your voice heard by voting.

“I am proud of Gana-A'Yoo for taking this task on. We have had several villages in our region who are interested in this, but really Gana-A'Yoo has been the leader.” - Robin Renfroe

ELECTION Results

Congratulations to newly elected board member, Joshua Peter, Nulato stock (urban), and incumbents Sharon Hildebrand, Galena and Nulato stock (urban), and Shay Huntington McEwen, Galena stock (urban).

Thank you to the candidates who ran for the board this year and thank you to the Gana-A'Yoo shareholders for the 59.6 percent quorum. It is because of your votes that the annual meeting of shareholders can be successful.

STOCK WILL winners

Thank you to all shareholders who have submitted a valid stock will within the last five years. By the stock will drawing deadline of May 5, 2021, all 267 shareholders who submitted a valid stock will were entered to win cash prizes. Congratulations to the lucky $500 winners, Jolene Lestenkof and Maxine Brannen. If you would like to be entered into future drawings, be sure to submit your valid stock wills. All stock wills must be notarized or certified by the postmaster and signed by the shareholder submitting the stock will. Contact the corporate office with any questions.

Shareholder of the Year HEATHER GUTIERREZ

The Gana-A'Yoo Board of Directors selected Heather Gutierrez of California to be recognized as this year's Shareholder of the Year. Gutierrez grew up in Galena and is the daughter of Joyce Huntington and the late Stanley Huntington. She graduated in 2017 from Cerritos College with an associate degree in nursing, obtained her registered nursing license in 2018, and has since dedicated her life's work to helping others. Gutierrez is a devoted nurse and has worked tirelessly throughout the COVID-19 pandemic, earning and maintaining the trust of many while continuing to be the caring wife to her husband, Christopher, and mother to their sons, Jase and Jaiden. Gutierrez demonstrates the spirit of Gana-A'Yoo's mission and vision, and she demonstrates the traditional value of taking care of others with her selflessness and her deeply caring attitude for the well-being of those around her.

“Heather's honesty and exceptional moral standards are highly admired; she has held a lot of responsibilities from a young age and continues to be rooted with her traditions. She is caring, kind, empathetic and compassionate.” - Angela Rutman, Gana-A'Yoo shareholder

Village Spotlight GALENA

Galena has had the good fortune of having Dr. Tammy Huntington provide services to the community as well as the outlying villages of Koyukuk, Nulato, Kaltag, Ruby and Huslia since fall 2009.

Dr. Huntington went to college in Iowa and medical school in Kansas City, Missouri, and proceeded to fulfill her residency at Providence Medical Center in Anchorage. Following residency, she and her family moved to Galena after coming to an agreement with the Tanana Chiefs Conference and the City of Galena to become Galena's first physician.

Dr. Huntington's professional goal throughout her education was providing rural care. She enjoys the rural lifestyle and rural medicine, explaining, "My passion is rural medicine; it is a rewarding lifestyle." In school, Dr. Huntington took a wilderness medicine track and took specific rotations to gain skills for a uniquely rural lifestyle. She stated, "I trained in areas that I knew could translate to a rural clinic, focusing on how to be effective in a rural setting."

She appreciates knowing her patients well and the interpersonal relationships she has made. She said, "The beauty of having the time to listen to our patients cannot be undervalued; lasting relationships with a patient is the way to help with some of the most difficult health problems, such as depression and addiction – issues that cannot just be fixed in the short term. Showing that continuity is super important."

Over a decade into her practice at the Galena Health Clinic, Dr. Huntington and the medical team faced the challenge of the COVID-19 pandemic, which changed nearly all of how they functioned as a clinic and how they delivered care. Dr. Huntington commended community leadership and how the community worked well together. One project that came to fruition was the building of a new cabin, in conjunction with Loudon Tribal Council, that now serves as an emergency exam room. The cabin was built in two weeks and a local artist painted the interior, complete with handprints from students.

"We have an amazing team; we have skill sets that rely on each other and we trust each other." – Dr. Huntington

Dr. Huntington recently decided to take a sabbatical to a relatively small community on the north coast of the north island in New Zealand. Although it is not easy for her and her family to uproot for a year, she is nonetheless excited for her and her family to travel, broaden their perspective and return home refreshed. "I love the staff, I love and know my patients well, though sometimes it is important to shake it up a bit," she said.

Huntington is the daughter of Phil and Debbie Koontz of Galena, the wife of Andrew Huntington and the mother of Paul, Milo and Zac.

BOARD of Directors

If you are interested in serving on the Gana-A'Yoo Foundation Board of Directors, you can submit your resume and a letter of intent to Crystal Sommer via fax at 907.569.9699 or email to csommer@ganaayoo.com by July 30, 2021. Current board members include Leann Sommer (2021), Sharon Hildebrand (2022) and Alexis Sheeder (2023). Board members must be 18 years of age or older to qualify. Please note that under federal laws governing private foundations, family members of Gana-A'Yoo Foundation board members are not eligible to receive a Foundation scholarship during their term on the board. Current scholarship recipients are also not eligible to serve on the board.

INTERNSHIPS

Gana-A'Yoo is offering intern positions in our corporate office. Positions can be filled on an as-needed basis throughout the year. For more information, please contact Janelle Huntington in human resources at 907.771.6525 or jhuntington@ganaayoo.com.

SCHOLARSHIP Deadlines

The 2021 Foundation general and competitive scholarship deadline was June 15. For those who did not receive the general scholarship, the next deadline is September 30 for the spring scholarship. Short-term and vocational scholarship applications are accepted throughout the year. For more information, visit the Gana-A'Yoo Foundation website at www.ganaayoo.com/foundation.

Galena ROAD CLOSURE

Every year, Gana-A'Yoo is required, by law, to close our privately owned road next to the Gana-A'Yoo building in Galena. This year, the road will be closed for one day, for a period of 24 hours, after which it will remain open again for the next year.

Student of the Year SHEENA TWITCHELL, RN

The Gana-A'Yoo Foundation Board of Directors selected Sheena Twitchell, RN, for the Student of the Year award. Twitchell is the daughter of Christine (Pitka) and Jerry Twitchell. The annual award recognizes a shareholder or descendant of an original shareholder between 7th grade through college who demonstrates outstanding leadership qualities as well as cultural and community involvement.

Twitchell has been an outstanding student throughout her schooling career, since she was a child excelling in the classroom to graduating with two bachelor's degrees, including graduating nursing cum laude. Currently, Twitchell is working toward her Master of Science in Nursing - Family Nurse Practitioner degree at Grand Canyon University and is expecting to graduate in March 2022. Simultaneously, Twitchell has been working full time as a public health registered nurse at the Phoenix Indian Medical Center, where she has been administering COVID-19 vaccines to tribal members on reservations in Arizona. Twitchell is a leader in her line of work in her region as well as in the nation. She has had the privilege of speaking at the Native American Youth Leadership Conference, is a traditional cultural advocacy committee member and is a former March of Dimes Nurse of the Year. Twitchell has a deep investment in the communities she serves and has focused on the health and well-being of tribal nations in the southwestern United States while maintaining her own traditional influence by way of using the Denaakk'e language she has learned.

Subsidiary Spotlight KAIYUH SERVICES, LLC

Late this winter, Kaiyuh Services, LLC, led a team of employees to harvest approximately 9,000 dormant willow shoots along the back waters of the Mississippi River to replant on the Conway Lake newly constructed flood plain forest this summer.

"The process will allow the newly constructed island to rapidly grow with native vegetation, thus greatly eliminating the threat of invasive species," said David Roels, vice president of operations.
